

Workshare Deliver

Secure sharing up in the Cloud

Secure cloud-based sharing that's an absolute breeze

Enterprise-class data security

Connect in the office or on the move

Share from a desktop, smartphone or tablet

Using Workshare means you can share any file with complete confidence that your data will remain secure.

What makes Workshare unique is that you can also organize files, complete comparison, and remove sensitive metadata from documents before they are shared all using one simple, cloud-based platform.

Any number of documents and different types of files have to be shared between parties on a daily basis. It's of paramount importance that the solution offers flexibility, for travel, visiting clients or working remotely, but the integrity of your file's content can't be compromised.

With Workshare, you can get the same powerful functionality from your desktop, smartphone or tablet. Workshare can be deployed to the desktop or an authorized device, and the same secure functionality is applied throughout. This means you can share documents when connected at the office or when mobile.

Everyone wants a secure, reliable way to organize and exchange their files. But, it has to be practical too and that means using the cloud.

You should use Workshare if you want...

Complete flexibility – Enjoy the mobility and choice a next-generation, cloud-based solution can bring to you, your business and your clients.

Absolute security – Be assured that your data and your reputation are protected. Workshare operates to the highest security protocols for file sharing.

Breathe easy, you're in good hands.

15 years of expertise have been brought to the moment you share a document. You're in safe hands and good company.

More than 30 million high stakes documents have been shared using Workshare.

Invite others safely

Workshare's cloud infrastructure delivers enterprise-class data security and the ability to safeguard content, prevent unauthorized access and guarantee availability. Workshare is hosted by a range of carefully selected and fully accredited data center partners across Europe and North America, meaning data can be located in a region of your choice.

Share simply

Get a simple, no-fuss way for clients to access your documents. Choose to organize content in a range of flexible folder structures, making it easy to store client-specific files. And, whether uploading a file, sharing through your document management system, or emailing a file from any device, everything is subject to the same security and metadata cleansing protocol integral to your Workshare solution.

Clear version control

Make sure you and your clients are always on the same page. There will never be any doubt about which is the latest version of the document they are looking at. Your clients can even get a DeltaView redline online or in their app to see exactly what's changed since the last version. And each version is archived so nothing is ever lost.
